

House vote of approval, the Columbia Broadcasting System offered GOP nominee Richard M. Nixon, Democratic nominee Hubert H. Humphrey and third party candidate George C. Wallace, and their runningmates, one hour of prime time on each of the next four Sundays.

The National Broadcasting Co. asked the three to arrange meetings with network officials to agree on a time and format acceptable to all.

But Dirksen made it clear Senate Republicans have no intention of letting the bill become law in its present form, if they can stall it in the waning days of a session where a quorum to conduct business is rapidly disappearing.

"We are going to resist this with the means at our command," Dirksen said.

Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield of Montana made the House-passed bill the pending business at a session today called two hours earlier than the usual noon meeting time.

Observing that he expected "considerable discussion" by the minority, he added:

"I hope the Republicans will do their best to see that we get home before the polls close on Nov. 5."

Sen. Roman L. Hruska, R-Nebr., said that the adjournment of Congress might be delayed by the argument over the measure.

There were indications, however, that the Democrats may be willing to let the bill die after they have attempted to drive home the point that Nixon doesn't want a debate.

Humphrey's Finances Net $281,423

WASHINGTON (AP) — Democratic presidential candidate Hubert H. Humphrey says his net financial worth is $281,423.

Humphrey's total assets are $377,867, his office said Wednesday in disclosing his financial standing at his request. But his liabilities total $96,444.

The liabilities include $83,714 in mortgages, a $6,589 bank loan and $6,141 in miscellaneous debts, the financial statement trict Attorney Guy Jones issued the following statement, "The recent arrest of James Brashear has stirred many rumors to the effect that we have apprehended the person responsible for several rape cases in and around Texarkana.

By this statement I wish to completely put a stop to these rumors. We have this person accused of assault with intent to rape in one case only."

"At the present time there is no connection whatsoever between this man and any other similar crime committed in Texarkana. It should be clearly understood that no other crimes have been solved by this arrest and no evidence presented which connects Brashear with any other crime. We will continue to investigate the other crimes that have been committed and gather evidence as best we can," the statement said.

In closing the statement read, "The Texas Police have done an excellent job thus far, but we are still far from making any accusations or arrest."

It listed assets of $166,246 in a trust fund established when he became vice president, an $86,360 home in Washington and a $45,780 home in Waverly, Minn.

The statement said Humphrey also has paid $32,622 into the U.S. Civil Service Retirement Fund; has $18,548 in cash; owns cars and boats worth $4,625 and household goods and personal effects worth $19,750 and has life insurance with a cash surrender value of $1,936.

Fracus Between School Officials, Students Over Attire Is Raging

By HAL COOPER

Associated Press Writer
NEW YORK (AP) — The annual fracas between school officials and students over classroom attire raged across the land today, spiced by glimpses of stocking tops, panties and even navel.

There was hot and generally unresolved controversy over a number of burning questions:

At what point do a girl's culottes become so brief that they are, so to speak, more like sans-culottes?

Is a T-shirt underwear or outerwear?

Where is the torrid zone on miniskirts?

Should a girl wear a Nehru jacket with nothing underneath but panties?

What is a reasonable length for male sideburns?

School principals from coast to coast were bugged by love beads, and rode off in several directions. Some insisted that the wearing of love beads by males would not do. Others held that love beads, if worn, must be tucked inside shirts. Others said go ahead wear 'em any old way.

Culottes, a sort of split skirt, were taboo last year in Chicago's Morgan Park High School. This term they are permissible if they extend to within two inches of the knee.

At Hollywood, Calif., High, Culottes must be full enough to look like unsplit skirts, and three inches up is the limit.

On T-shirts, the official rule at Mandan, N.D., High School is: "They're underwear and not proper school apparel."

But at Radford High School, near Pearl Harbor, Hawaii, T-shirts receive the stamp of approval as long as they do not bear words or pictures.

Officially fixed miniskirt lengths ran from two inches above the knee in Jefferson Parish, La., to four inches in Glendale, Calif. But there are other less specific views.

The Westport, Conn., school board ruled simply that skirts must cover the girls' "undergarments and their torsos."

Principal J. H. Boucree of Booker T. Washington High in New Orleans said: "When a girl sits you should not see the tops of her stockings."

The Phoenix, Ariz., High School system ran into Nehru jacket trouble and had to put its foot down.

Explained Mick Herzog, the system's community relations director: "The girls were wearing them with nothing but panties on underneath, which turned everybody on."

"The boys came to school with short Nehru Jackets, no undershirts and open at the midriff, allowing their navels to show."

Charges WR Tossing Up Smokescreen

MOUNTAIN HOME, Ark. (AP) — Marion H. Crank of Foreman, the Democratic gubernatorial nominee, said Wednesday night that Gov. Winthrop Rockefeller would continue to throw "smokescreen after smokescreen" to avoid facing the issues.

An example was Tuesday, Crank said, when there were "great headlines with the co-operation of one of our fine dailies in Little Rock" telling how his daughter had been put on the state payroll.

Rockefeller said in a speech Tuesday that eight Crank should reveal on his own the names and ages of his four children who have been on the state's payroll or he would do it himself.

The state auditor's records showed that Elizabeth Crank, 11, Crank's daughter, was paid $20 a day as a clerk in the state House of Representatives from May 24-28, 1965. In 1965, she was 8 years old. The state records also show Elizabeth Crank received $120.70 after deductions as a clerk in the House for the period May 29-June 14, 1965.

Crank said at a four-county Democratic rally here that he had not had adequate time to check the records but that he had called to learn what the date of the expenditure was.

He said he found that it was during the special session of the legislature when House members only could draw $6 a day. He said the House "had publicly voted" to give an extra $20 a day to each House member "in patronage to assist him with his expenses."

Paul Donnelly, launch operations manager for the Kennedy Space Center, reported Wednesday that preparations for Apollo 7 "are about the cleanest I've seen"—better than on any of the previous 16 U.S. man-in-space flights and the 16 unmanned flights that have been conducted with the Saturn 1B and Saturn 5 rockets.

Major milestones after the terminal countdown begins include serving the power-producing fuel cells with liquid hydrogen and liquid oxygen, checking the emergency detection system that would signal if anything were wrong, pumping 86,900 gallons of liquid oxygen and 64,000 gallons of liquid hydrogen into the rocket, and thoroughly checking spacecraft systems. Earlier, 42,100 gallons of kerosene were funneled into the Saturn 1B.

During the night, the backup crew—Air Force Col. Thomas P. Stafford and Navy Cmdr. Eugene A. Cernan and John W. Young—will make sure all in Hollywood, Calif.: Must end at midyear.

Pasadena, Calif.: Down to the bottom of the ear.

Astoria, Ore.: Not allowed.

The face hair hassle has come to some sort of climax in Nashville, Tenn. Two youths are challenging in federal court the school board's right to expel them for wearing not only long locks but beards. They said they needed their hair in their business. Both are with a rock 'n' roll combo.

Love beads? They're verboten for boys in Glendale, may be worn inside shirts in Oconomoc, Wis. But in Waukesha, Wis., Principal Charles Horwitz of Central High looks at it this way:

"If men can wear ribbons around their necks and call them ties, there's nothing wrong with beads."

Kailua High School in Hawaii ruled that this year the kids must wear shoes. The students won a point, though: From now on moccasins are okay classroom garb for girls.

vote in their state caucus, Udall said, and nothing to prevent them from voting for a candidate even though he might have gotten fewer popular votes than any other nominee.

Udall said 100 of the estimated 800 candidates for House seats have promised to support the presidential candidate pulling the most popular votes.

"It's been the old problem of trying to repair the roof when the sun's shining," Udall commented about the failure to convince more people to make the pledge.

He said House leaders of both parties opposed the plan. But even more telling, Udall said, was the hemming and hawing by advisors to Humphrey and Nixon.

"The Nixon people say, for instance, there are 18 delegations where a switch of seats could change the state's vote in any House vote or a President. With a Nixon landslide they expect to win those seats so they say why bother about a pledge plan," Udall said.

Humphrey's advisors also know Democrats may still control the House so this might tie their hands in putting their candidate in the White House, he said.

SOME SEEK (from page one)

"President Johnson . . . still has enough time and power" to open the way to peace by ordering a halt now to the bombing of North Vietnam.

The second argument: — Hanoi is being hurt militarily under the combined pressure and the increasing firepower of allied forces in South Vietnam. Ever-younger troops, sources said, are being pushed out of North Vietnam's eroded training bases into Southern battlefields. The rate of infiltration from the North is said to be falling.

The third argument:

— The men from Hanoi always display impeccable manner and all the courtesies during their meetings with the Americans. But Wednesday something approaching friendliness if not actual warmth toward the Americans was reported. This could mean a little—or a lot.

TEENS CAN JOIN RARE BLOOD CLUB

Dear Helen: I have a rare blood type, I've heard of a Rare Blood Club where you can sign up to donate blood for others of your type. Could you tell me more about it and how to get in touch? — HOP-ING TO HELP

Dear H.T.H.: The address of the National Rare Blood Club is 164 Fifth Avenue, New York, N.Y., 10010. If you are between 18 and 21 you must have a parent's or guardian's consent to donate blood. Under 18? Perhaps you can assist by rounding up adult members.

This exclusive club seeks to register the 25 percent of the population having rare blood, so that in times of emergency a donor will be available immediately. Members provide their blood free to any patient who needs it. They have helped save hundreds of lives since the club was formed in 1960. — H

Wives of 3 Astronauts to Florida

By PAUL RECER
AP Aerospace Writer
SPACE CENTER, Houston, Tex. (AP) — Mrs. Walter Cunningham flew to Florida Wednesday for a quiet dinner with her astronaut husband on their last evening together before he blasts off for 11 days in space.

The pretty blonde flew by private airplane with the two Cunningham children, Brian, 8, and Kimberly, 5. They will return to their Houston home Friday night after the Apollo 7 launch. The wife of the Apollo 7 command pilot, Mrs. Walter M. Schirra, will spend launch day at home with her daughter, Suzanne, 11, and friends. Walter M. Schirra III, 18-year-old son of the astronaut, expects to stay at Stanford University, where he is a freshman.

Mrs. Donn F. Eisele, wife of the third Apollo 7 crewman, plans to stay home throughout the flight. The Eiseles have three children, Melinda, 14; Donn H., 12; and Jon 4.

The homes of the three astronauts are near the Manned Spacecraft Center.

The astronauts will sleep in special quarters Thursday night a short drive from where their Apollo spacecraft awaits the final countdown.

Eisele and Schirra will be able to talk with their wives by telephone before the flight. In the past, astronauts have been permitted a final prelaunch call to their families from the spacecraft.

Mrs. Schirra is a veteran of waiting at home while her husband soars in space. Schirra flew the Sigma 7 Mercury flight in 1962 and was command pilot on the Gemini 6 flight in 1965.

Eisele and Cunningham are space rookies.

National Aeronautics and Space Administration officials said the home of each of the astronauts is wired to receive the audio channel carrying air-to-ground conversations between the astronauts and mission control and is equipped with a television set for each of the national networks.

Gibson Goes for No. 3 in Series

By HAL BOCK
Associated Press Sports Writer
ST. LOUIS (AP) — Mickey Lolich and Bob Gibson went into the seventh game World Series date today with a bit of apprehension and without their accustomed rest.

Gibson, ace of the St. Louis pitching staff, was to work the deciding game with three days rest instead of his usual four. Detroit's Lolich was coming back with only two days off—one less than he is used to.

Both were going for their third Series' victory and were less than delighted to be working with short rest.

"Anytime you break a routine ... do something out of the ordinary, or something you're not used to, it will affect you somewhat," said Gibson, who beat the Tigers in the fourth game with just three days of rest.

Lolich, who won the second and fifth games, said he was surprised to be working again.

"I figured the fifth game was it," he said after the Tigers had tied the Series with a 13-1 romp behind Denny McLain Wednesday.

"I'll be able to go out there and throw," Lolich continued, "but I won't be as strong as with three days of rest."

"Pitching with two days rest," said Lolich, "I'd prefer a bigger ball park."

Busch Stadium wasn't big enough to hold the Tigers Wednesday.

They exploded for a record-tying 10-run third inning and McLain coasted to his first Series victory after two losses.

Jim Northrup walloped a grand slam homer—the 11th in World Series history—and Al Kline stroked two singles, driving in three runs in the big inning. Kline later added a homer, lifting his average in his first World Series to .440.

Kline, with 11 hits, and Lou Brock of St. Louis with 12 both had a shot at the record for most hits in a series—13 held by Bobby Richardson of the New York Yankees, and Gibson was after a record-shattering eighth straight Series victory.

It was Kline's first hit that drove in the Tigers' initial run in the third and knocked out starter Ray Washburn. Dick McAuliffe had opened with a walk and Mickey Stanley singled him to third. After Kline's hit brought McAuliffe home, Norm Cash, who had three hits, singled Stanley across.

Willie Horton walked, loading the bases and Northrup, who had four grand slams during the regular season, unloaded them.

Two walks and a hit batsman loaded the bases again and three straight singles by Kline, Cash and Horton brought four more runs across.

After that, it was all downhill for McLain.

Feels Bobcats Do Best in Last Half

By RALPH ROUNTON
Star Sports Writer
As the Hope coaches would put it if the situation warranted, "we aren't about to quit. We've still got seven games to play."

And though everyone's forecasts have been disappointed up to now, neither the team nor the fans have any right to feel that way. We are not.

Texarkana Washington just might stay with the Bobcats in the first half of their game at Texarkana's Buhrman Field this Saturday night, but it's those last two quarters that are so crucial. Looking at some freehand statistics, one finds that in the Bobcats' first five outings, four times the offense has been shut out in the second half.

To be sure, it is not purely coincidental that the only time Hope has broken the ice in the last 24 minutes was the only winning game on the 1-3-1 slate. However, it's not that bad when you look at the defensive totals. Prescott, Malvern, and DeQueen couldn't score in the last two quarters, with the only scoring being a touchdown apiece by Smackover and Ashdown, both being 7-point losses for the Bobcats.

In summarizing the paragraph above, it is apparent that the defense has actually gotten better as each game wears on, but the offense has not been able to capitalize on any breaks. Texarkana Washington has the most porous defense Hope will play this year, and it will be a good spirit lifter if the Cats could run up, say, 28 to 35 points. It may not happen, but here's hoping.

A case in the opposite point is the Arkansas Razorbacks who, standing 3-0 and ranked 14th in the nation, have been outscored by 29-27 in the first half of their three contests. But in the third period they have a composite 21-6 lead, entering the fourth quarter still behind against TCU and Oklahoma State.

In those final 15 minutes of the three games, though, the Porks have run up 37 points to the opponents' absolute zero. That, as Orville Henry would put it, is defense at its best, but it isn't a very bad show for the offense either.

It is this late offensive punch which could turn results such as 0-0, 0-7, and 6-13 all the way around, and will be so important against future powerhouses like Fairview, Magnolia, Arkadelphia and even Nashville. According to the Bobcat staff, though, the team's blocking will have to improve, and this has been a source of practice for the last few days.

No longer may we call our defense the "Arkansas monster", simply because the Hogs are hardly using it anymore. Frank Broyles has gone mostly to the prohibitive pro-type 4-3-4, with a roving middle linebacker instead of the monster man, who now is an outside linebacker. This in the future will give the Arkansas secondary more freedom against the likes of Jerry Levis from SMU and Bob Long of Texas A&M.

The scouting report of the week's opponent, normally coming the day before the game, moves to Friday this time as the Star won't have an article the morning after a Bobcat game for the first time in quite a while. This writer can recall playing Nashville on a Wednesday night back in the vintage year of 1963, but never a Saturday evening contest. Anyone recalling any such game in the last decade or two is invited to contribute their knowledge.

Yesterday the Bobcats went inside Jones Field House after heavy rains in the morning had drenched the field, but hopefully things will clear as they did last week for a good football night. In the first five Fridays, none have even threatened rain at all, with most evenings being clear and cool. Three games on the Hammons Stadium turf did no good whatsoever last week after all the rain, and the grass is beginning to lose its color.

Malvern is now tied with Fairview for the 4-AA Western Division lead at 2-0, and they face each other in the grand finale. Arkadelphia is right up there with a 3-0 season mark, but only one win was in divisional play. The Badgers did, however, upset Nashville 13-7 to prove their worth, even though the Scrappers had been hit hard by injuries.

The next game on the HHS campus will be the Bobcats' return bout with Nashville next Thursday night, as the "B" Lizards travel to Prescott Monday evening to match forces with the Curley Wolves' Jayvees. Of course, next Friday is Homecoming Day for the Bobcats with sweet old Fairview, No. 7 in the state and 5-0 at present.

Tigers Real Confident of Victory

By LARRY PALADINO
Associated Press Sports Writer
ST. LOUIS (AP) — One of the happiest players in the Detroit dressing room after the Tigers' 13-1 World Series romp over St. Louis Wednesday was Bill Freehan.

The big catcher didn't knock in four runs, as did both Jim Northrup and Al Kline. But he did get a hit to end an 0-for-16 hitting slump through the first five Series games.

How did it feel? "Great!" said the burly catcher.

His locker had letters and telegrams taped all around it with advice from fans on how to come out of his batting slump.

"One guy had me move six inches closer to the plate," Freehan added with a grin. "That would put me right in the middle of it. I think he was trying to tell me something."

"It sure gave him a big lift," said Manager Mayo Smith of Freehan's drive, a single in the second inning that drove in a run.

Despite all the joy by the Tigers after the game, attention quickly focused on today's seventh and deciding game against the Cardinals.

Ace St. Louis pitcher Bob Gibson was scheduled to face Mickey Lolich. Both have won two Series games.

Denny McLain, Wednesday's winner, who received a shot of cortisone to relieve the pain in his aching right shoulder Monday, was not named to start until just prior to the game.

"I think he got better as he went along," said Freehan, "but I think his arm was still stiff."

"I was concerned about his velocity," he added. "His fast ball wasn't working at the beginning but it got better as he went along."

Norm Cash, who was 3-for-4 with two runs batted in, was hitting .333 in the Series before Wednesday's performance.

"When a man's hitting the ball, he's going to hit off anybody," he said, looking ahead to today's game against Gibson.

One of the few problems encountered by the Tigers was the infield. McAuliffe appeared to have easy plays on two grounders, only to have them bounce over his head at the last minute for singles.

"It's a bad infield," he said. "The ball takes all kinds of bad hops."

"They played football on it Sunday," said Smith, referring to the St. Louis Cardinals football team.

The Series closely resembles last year's match between St. Louis and Boston. Boston was down 3-1 and came back to win the next two games, only to lose the finale to Gibson.

The Tigers were down three games to one and were to meet Gibson for the last match.

"If we lost the Series I wanted it to be in seven games," said Kline. "At least we haven't embarrassed ourselves or the American League."

HHH Appeals Anew for Aid of McCarthy

By CARL P. LEUBSDORF
Associated Press Writer
NEW YORK (AP) — Hubert H. Humphrey has made a new appeal for Sen. Eugene J. McCarthy's support, warning that otherwise the senator's "impossible dream" might "turn into a quite possible nightmare of George Corley Wallace or Richard Milhous Nixon."

Speaking to a dinner of New York's Liberal party, which is backing him for president, Humphrey said Wednesday night that the president to be chosen in less than four weeks "probably will not be" Wallace, but "could be" Nixon.

Then, using the words that became a keynote of McCarthy's unsuccessful quest for the Democratic presidential nomination, Humphrey said, "I myself have pursued the impossible dreams. I pursued them before and I'm possibly pursuing one again."

"But," he continued in evident reference to his fellow Minnesotan's continued refusal to support him, "I hope that last year's dreamers, lest their impossible dreams turn into a quite possible nightmare of George Corley Wallace or Richard Milhous Nixon."

Just before the vice president arrived at the Americana, the midtown hotel where he spoke, 21 anti-Humphrey demonstrators were arrested and five injured, along with five policemen, when officers attempted to disperse a crowd of about 800 protesters.

One mounted patrolman was hospitalized in serious condition with a back injury after he reportedly was pulled from his horse to the pavement. Some demonstrators contended he fell off his horse.

Earlier, talking to reporters after a flight here from Boston, Humphrey said he still hopes McCarthy will support him, but "I'm not prone to meeting conditions." The senator said Tuesday night the Democratic party should take a stand for a coalition government for South Vietnam, for reform of the draft and restructuring of the party.

After a morning of closed meetings today, devoted to efforts to raise additional funds for his financially hard-pressed campaign, Humphrey rides down lower Broadway for a traditional ticker-tape greeting before speaking in the heart of New York's financial district.

Priest Operated an Orphanage But Lived in Luxury Elsewhere

LOS ANGELES (AP) — The children at Boys Town of the Desert know him as the Rev. Robert Nikilborc, Roman Catholic priest and head of the orphanage.

The U.S. attorney's office says he is known to neighbors in Palm Springs as Robert Drew Rand, an executive of an electronics firm with a $75,000 home.

Father Nikilborc was charged Wednesday with failing to declare personal income of nearly $120,000 over a three-year period.

U.S. Atty. Matt Byrne said the priest maintained a dual identity for several years, operating the orphanage at Banning, Calif., and living in the plush Palm Springs desert resort.

The government charges he didn't file income tax returns for the years 1963, 1964 and 1965 when he had a total gross income of $119,960.44.

The 37-year-old priest is

Says Nuclear War Statement Distorted

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Gen. Curtis E. LeMay, vice presidential candidate of the American Independent party, was asked by The Associated Press to state his position on the use of nuclear weapons. Here is the text he issued in reply:

"During the past few days, my position on the use of nuclear weapons has been distorted by political opponents in an effort to create a false image of me as a war monger. In my belief, most Americans, familiar with my record in the Strategic Air Command and as Air Force chief of staff, will be no longer deceived by such scare tactics. The people of this country are getting sick and tired of being told, every time someone proposes a firm stand against the Communists, that he is a war monger. The truth of the matter is, the real war mongers are those who would deliberately prolong the Vietnam war by refusing to win it. With this in mind, I reaffirm my original position on victory in Vietnam."

"I have never advocated the use of nuclear weapons in the Vv am conflict. I am prayerful that present negotiations are successful and an honorable settlement is reached in this war. If present negotiations fail, I advocate employing a preponderant force of conventional weapons to win a decisive military victory without further delay. I do not advocate the use of nuclear arms unless this country should be in danger of being destroyed. In order to have enduring peace and to prevent nuclear war, we must remain capable and alert, and we must deal with the enemy only from a position of strength."

"My deepest concern is for the safety and well-being of all Americans, especially those men who are making daily sacrifices in a distant jungle, while we wring our hands at home."

president and financial director of the Catholic orphanage which cares for 65 boys. Last year he announced plans for a $4 million institution on land in nearby Beaumont owned by the San Diego diocese. He said it would be the first of 15 similar orphanages across the country.

Boys Town of the Desert is a school for youths up to 17 years old. It is operated by the Brothers of Charity of the Immaculate Heart of Mary. Officials at the orphanage said Father Nikilborc has been its president since 1961.

Negro Mayor Fires His Police Chief

By ANN HELLMUTH
Associated Press Writer
CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP) — Mayor Carl B. Stokes, troubled by racial unrest in Cleveland, announced Wednesday a $17 million program to improve law enforcement.

The Negro mayor also relieved Police Chief Michael J. Blackwell, 68, and gave the $22,125-a-year post to Deputy Inspector Patrick L. Gerity, 49.

Blackwell, who was appointed police chief when Stokes took office last November, turned down an offer to become a consultant to the police department and said he would rather go back to being an inspector.

Stokes told a news conference he would ask City Council for funds to overhaul the police communications system and to establish a modern command center to coordinate police response to crime calls.

He said he would fully detail the program later but the immediate aim was to correct the "internal breakdown of police morale and discipline."

Relations between members of the 2,200-man police department and City Hall became strained after the July 23 sniper incident when 10 persons, including three white policemen, were killed after a group of black nationalists opened fire on police.

Stokes withdrew white police and National Guardsmen from the Glenville area the night after the shootings. Black community leaders and Negro policemen patrolled the streets.

Although Stokes' decision was later praised by some persons as having prevented more bloodshed, the Fraternal Order of Police strongly criticized the mayor's actions.

The order demanded the resignation of Safety Director Joseph F. McManamon. A resolution calling for Blackwell's resignation was dropped in view of the police chief's age.

There were reports that patrolmen were broadcasting derogatory remarks about Stokes over the police radio and refusing to answer calls to Negro areas.

Half the people in the United States over 55 have lost all their teeth, according to estimates.

Gun Control Bill Still in Trouble

By TOM SEPPY
Associated Press Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) — After months of congressional fighting, a bill to ban the mail-order sale of rifles, shotguns and ammunition faces only one major obstacle—a House eager to adjourn.

The Senate passed by voice vote Wednesday a compromise measure recommended by a joint conference committee and sent it to the House for probable action today.

Although the House is expected to approve the gun control bill, Rep. Clark MacGregor, R-Minn., said he would lead a fight against the conference committee's compromise because it deleted an amendment exempting most ammunition from the mail-order sales ban.

MacGregor successfully sponsored an amendment exempting rifle and shotgun ammunition as well as 22-caliber rimfire bullets from the mail-order prohibition when the bill was originally passed by the House during the summer.

The bill as first passed on the Senate did not exempt ammunition. The conference committee accepted the Senate provision on that matter.

Another roadblock to easy passage was the possible absence of many members already back home campaigning for re-election or planning to leave early.

Another possible GOP tactic would be to try to prevent the bill from being considered immediately by employing the parliamentary procedures that forced the House to remain in session for 27 hours and 37 minutes before completing action Wednesday on a measure to allow for network debates between the major presidential candidates.

They forced a reading of the previous day's journal, then asked quorum calls to make sure the necessary 217 members were present to conduct business.

The House showdown climaxed months of battle over stiffer gun controls. Once doomed, the measure was revived by the assassinations of Dr. Martin Luther King Jr., and Sen. Robert F. Kennedy.

The new gun control measure would:

—Outlaw mail order sales across state lines of all firearms and ammunition.

—Forbid over-the-counter sales of pistols to anyone under 21 and rifles and shotguns to those under 18. Similar age limits would apply to the sale of ammunition.

—Prohibit gun sales to mental incompetents, felons, fugitives, drug addicts and persons under criminal indictment.

—Ban most over-the-counter sales of pistols to nonresidents of the involved state.

—Require a record be kept of the identity of persons making over-the-counter purchases of guns and ammunition.

—Require an affidavit of eligibility by purchasers of guns by mail inside a state and provide a seven-day waiting period to allow a police check.

—Provide stiff prison terms for use of a firearm in committing federal crimes.

—Add bombs, bazookas, and grenades to the 1934 firearms law that requires federal registration of machine guns and sawed-off shot guns.

Henderson, Tech Lead Statistically

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Arkansas Tech and Henderson dominate this week's AIC football statistics as the Reddies and Wonder Boys own the top spot in all but one category.

Tech's Danny Woodard is the top rusher with 284 yards, quarterback Leon Anderson leads in passing with 405 yards, flanker Don Thone is first in pass receiving with 13 for 194 yards, and R. E. Hodges leads in pass interceptions with three.

Henderson's Tommy Hart is the total offense leader with 453 yards and shares the scoring lead with teammate Jerry Malone with 24 points each. Arky Floyd heads the punt returners with a 23.8 average and Buddy Jordan is first in punting with a 42.5 average.

Southern State's Phil Trotter leads in kickoff returns with a 27.3 average.

Cardinals Can Laugh About Game

By CHARLIE BAROUH
Associated Press Sports Writer
ST. LOUIS (AP) — The St. Louis Cardinals seemed pretty happy in their dressing room Wednesday although they had lost.

Manager Red Schoendienst even managed to laugh about the World Series-record 10 runs the Detroit Tigers scored in the third inning on their way to a 13-1 victory.

"Everything happened out there," Schoendienst said, "Every time they (the Tigers) swung a bat there was a hit. Or else we walked them or hit them. We hit two guys, geez."

Dal Maxvill was happy because the game was over. He's now hitless in 20 times at bat this series. The record is 0 for 21.

"After they score 12 or 13 runs you just say to yourself let's get it over before somebody gets hurt," Maxvill said.

One reason for the lack of gloom in the clubhouse was that most of the luckless relief pitchers had dressed and gone while the game was delayed by rain in the eighth inning.

Ray Washburn, who had started the game and took the loss, still was around, and not happy.

"I don't know what happened," Washburn whispered.

Another reason the Cardinals weren't too distressed about the loss that ended the Series at three games apiece was standing in front of his locker.

"Listen, nobody has told me I'm going to pitch," said Bob Gibson, who has won two games for the Cardinals and was due to start today.

"I don't want him to worry about it," laughed Schoendienst.

Happenings Today in Washington

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
WASHINGTON (A) — Investment advisers and stockbrokers who advertise past wise recommendations to customers would have to list their flops as well under rule changes being considered by the Securities and Exchange Commission.

Specific mention of one investment recommendation in an advertisement would have to be accompanied by all recommendations—the bad as well as the good—over the past year, the SEC said Wednesday.

The ad could offer to provide a full list on request under the rule being considered but "the advertisement cannot list some and offer to furnish the rest in a list."

WASHINGTON (AP) — Earnings of some 45 million American workers rose an average 4 cents to $2.90 an hour last month, the highest increase for a September in two years, the Labor Department says.

That increased average hourly earnings 18 cents, or 6.6 percent, over the year, the department said in a report Wednesday.

The nation's unemployment rate crept up to 3.6 percent. The nation's unemployment rate crept up to 3.6 percent of WASHINGTON (AP) — The 32-hour House session tied up by a hassle over a bill to clear the way for three-way television-radio debates among the presidential candidates may have set a new record.

The certified record is a 29-hour session in 1840. Records are not clear on whether a marathon session in 1854 was longer.
But the 32-hour session—from noon Tuesday to 8:17 p.m. Wednesday—holds a clearer title for roll calls in one sitting: 45 compared to a record of 22 set in 1965.

DOCTOR'S MAILBAG
Pregnancy Chances Rare After Age 50
By WAYNE G. BRANDSTADT, M.D.

Q-How soon after her baby is born can a mother become pregnant again? What other drug can a woman take beside birth control pills to keep from getting pregnant?
A-If you do not nurse your baby, menstruation may return in about eight weeks. If you nurse him, it may return in about six months, even though you continue the breast feeding. This figure, however, is subject to wide variation and is usually longer in women who have had more than one child.

Q-What is the earliest a doctor can diagnose pregnancy by a laboratory test?
A-In one of the newer procedures, a woman's urine is tested with sheep's red blood cells that have been treated with an extract of human placenta. In some cases the test may indicate pregnancy as early as four days after a skipped menstrual period. The test takes only two hours to run. Another test, said to be very reliable and similar in nature, is read after only three minutes.

Q-My doctor terminated my pregnancy because he suspected it to be ectopic. But after the operation I was told I had a corpus luteum cyst. What caused it? Why must there be no further pregnancies?
A-A corpus luteum forms each month at the site of ovulation. It usually becomes absorbed and causes no trouble. But occasionally, for no known reason, it may increase in size and form a cyst. This, too, usually causes no trouble. But, if it ruptures and bleeds into the abdominal cavity, it causes all the symptoms of an ectopic pregnancy. This in itself would not be a reason to avoid future pregnancy.

Q-What is the oldest a woman has ever become pregnant?
A-It is rare to become pregnant after age 50. A search of the medical literature from 1850 on revealed only 26 authenticated cases. In one series of 50,000 births, only two women were over 45. A woman of any age will not become pregnant if she has not menstruated for over a year.

Q-Is it safe for a pregnant woman to take flu shots?
A-I would say take the shots. Nothing is more likely to harm both you and your baby than a full-blown attack of influenza.

Please send your questions and comments to Wayne G. Brandstadt, M.D., in care of this paper. While Dr. Brandstadt cannot answer individual letters, he will answer letters of general interest in future columns.

Thieu Denies Attempt to Overthrow Him

By BARRY KRAMER
Associated Press Writer
SAIGON (AP) — President Nguyen Van Thieu's office denied today that an attempt had been made to overthrow his government Tuesday.
A spokesman said the president's office considers the coup reports as false. He added that Thieu is going on radio and television tonight to deny the reports, which had been relayed by other government spokesmen Wednesday and repeated by them earlier today.
A government spokesman read a presidential communique to newsmen at a regular afternoon press briefing. It said: "During the past two days there have been many false rumors spread by the Communists or uninformed people saying that ARVN (Army of the Republic of Vietnam) troops are on alert to defend against a rebellion and, second, that a number of people have been arrested."
"All military measures being applied are normal to defend military installations. The military is continuing activities against the enemy."
The communique said there had been no arrests. The spokesman who read the communique at the briefing declined to comment further.
A highly reliable government informant who reported a thwarted coup attempt said again, "There have been arrests."
The source, who is in a position to know, said more arrests, both civilian and military, could be expected in the next two days. "The police are still investigating and interrogating," he said.
A U.S. Embassy spokesman said, "We still have nothing on why they called the alert, other than that it was a normal precautionary alert."
"Vietnamese government spokesmen attributed the alert to a move to counter possible action by 'trouble-makers,' but they would not identify the 'trouble-makers.'"
The official Vietnam Press reported today that "several defensive measures were built up by security agencies in the Saigon capital and its vicinity (Tuesday) night."
"Authoritative circles revealed that as the security agencies had discovered several signs concerning the security situation, special defense measures were applied to check in time any events which may be harmful to the living of the Saigon residents."

Normally, in such an announcement, Vietnam Press would identify the precautions as being against the Viet Cong, if that were the case. But the cryptic announcement appeared to back up the coup attempt reports.
South Vietnamese marine spokesmen denied reports that several marine officers had been arrested in connection with a coup attempt. Informed sources within the marines also said there was no information to back up the report. The marine commandant, Lt. Gen. Le Nguyen Khang, was reported working in his headquarters in Saigon.
It was learned that President Thieu earlier this week had sent messages to all military commanders warning them that there might be an attempted coup. The messages ordered the military commanders to break up any "gatherings" by all means necessary.
It was still not clear how extensive the reported coup attempt was or who might have been involved.
The government also announced that the Saigon Post, which had carried a story Wednesday about the military alert and said it was to cope with a possible rebellion, has been "temporarily suspended."
A press office spokesman said the newspaper was suspended for "violating press regulations." He would not be more specific.

Destruction of 400 Slots Scheduled

EL DORADO, Ark. (AP) — The destruction of 404 slot machines discovered in a raid here last month was to begin this morning.
Attorneys for N. O. Bledsoe of El Dorado, owner of the machines, were expected to get an order signed this morning dissolving an injunction against destroying the machines.
Circuit Court Judge Harry Crumpler, who originally issued the restraining order, was expected to dissolve it.
At a hearing in El Dorado Municipal Court Wednesday, Bledsoe volunteered to have the devices destroyed. He said he wanted the step taken under the supervision of El Dorado Police Chief R. E. Pennington, who led the raid that found the machines in Bledsoe's building.
Bledsoe's attorney, Bob Compton, said destruction of the machines would take two or three days. He said the scrap left after the destruction would be sold to scrap metal dealers with proceeds, predicted at about $100, going to the El Dorado United Fund.
Municipal Court Judge J. G. Ragsdale, who conducted the hearing, said he was not ruling on the guilt or innocence of Bledsoe, who is charged with illegally keeping gaming devices.

The judge said the charges against Bledsoe will be settled after Pennington reports to him after the machines are destroyed.
Bledsoe said at the Wednesday hearing that the machines were in the building when he bought it in 1948, and that the machines were stored on shelves and have never been used since he owned them. Some of the machines bore 1940 and 1941 city stamps.
Bledsoe was the foreman of the March term of the Union County Grand Jury.
Gov. Winthrop Rockefeller flew to El Dorado after the raid and told newsmen this was the kind of law enforcement he liked to see.

Peru Seizes U.S.-Owned Oil Holdings

LIMA, Peru (AP) — Peru's revolutionary military government took over a $200-million American-owned oil field complex Wednesday in a move that could delay recognition of the new regime by the United States and other Latin American governments.

The action against International Petroleum Corp., a subsidiary of Standard Oil of New Jersey, also could slow foreign investment which Peru needs.

President Juan Velasco Alvarado announced the seizure by the armed forces of the country's major petroleum complex in a speech broadcast to the nation shortly after noon.

"The revolution is on the march," said Velasco, a general in the coup that overthrew and exiled President Fernando Belaunde Terry last Thursday. He was cheered by several hundred military officers crowded into the ballroom of the presidential palace.

It was not clear from Velasco's announcement how much compensation—if any—would be paid to International Petroleum.

In New York, Standard Oil of New Jersey issued a statement saying it learned of the seizure from news dispatches. It called the action "clear violations of international law and laws of Peru."

"However," a spokesman reported, "the company said that full implications of the actions by the military regime are not yet clear. It hopes that once the regime understands the true nature of the prior settlement, it will in all fairness recognize its validity."

That settlement, negotiated in

Leaves Car Owners Anxious

By TOMMY YATES
Associated Press Writer
LITTLE ROCK (AP) — When W. O. Gibbons of Hensley slips behind the wheel of a car, all those around just stand and gaze, a tint of anxiety in their eyes.

Gibbons, 25, is an attendant at a parking lot here and he has become adept at wheeling the sedans and compacts into those tight little parking spaces.

What the patrons become anxious about when they see Gibbons get behind the wheel of their big, expensive cars is that he has one arm missing, his right one, at that.

This obvious handicap for a car jockey doesn't stop Gibbons, though.

"I can do anything but tie a bow," he said. He gets around that by wearing cowboy boots.

Gibbons lost his arm above the elbow in a two-car collision about three years ago. It took

Hawkins Re-election Without Vote

MORRILTON, Ark. (AP) — Sheriff Marlin Hawkins of Conway County apparently has won him a year to recover and it left him with a "half-plastic stomach."

Until the accident, he had driven "four-speed pick ups, hauling cows and horses" at Bigelow.

"The only trouble I have is turning some of them," Gibbons said. "You don't have to use both gears — low and reverse." Gibbons' personal car is standard shift.

Asked if the customers ever react, Gibbons said, "No, they just stand and watch me some times."

his bid for re-election with out a vote. John Thompson, his Republican opponent, has withdrawn from the race.

Thompson said the Democratic sheriff of 18 years controlled the elections.

He indicated his decision was prompted by a Circuit Court action at Little Rock. The court refused Monday to remove members appointed by the Democrat-controlled state Board of Election Commissioners to Conway, Faulkner and Prairie County boards of election commissioners.

By state law, these members must represent the majority party, which is the Republican party. The other two members of the county board are the county chairmen of the two major parties.

But Bill Clifton was picked by the Democratic members of the state board over GOP objections that Clifton supported the candidacy of Hawkins.

Republicans also saw their duty elected county chairman fail to get his seat on the county commission because, they said, Secretary of State Kelly Bryant failed to send him the required oath papers in time. Bryant is a Democrat.

The Circuit Court rejected GOP arguments that Clifton couldn't "represent" it.

Arkansans Held in Fatal Shooting

ST. LOUIS (AP) — Police said Wednesday that Mrs. William Goudy and Joe G. Nichols of St. Louis have been arrested on murder warrants in connection with the fatal shooting of W.B. Bardwell of Gilmore, Ark.

Deputy H. J. Dickson of the Crittenden County, Ark. sheriff's office said Mrs. Goudy's husband was held at Marion, Ark., in connection with Bardwell's death.

Bardwell was found dead in his car on Interstate 55 near Gilmore.

Seeks Wall St. Watchers Honors

BALTIMORE, Md. (AP) — Jeanne Carroll, 50-26-38, thinks she can top the other attractions in the bust-watching craze that has Wall Street agog.

"I feel they're not so great," she says. "I think I'm bigger."

Miss Carroll, an Argentine exotic dancer with the stage name of Miss Wow Wow, would like to walk down Wall Street "just to prove to myself that I'm better than the other ones."

But New York girl watchers will have to wait because she's booked through November.

Miss Carroll doesn't think it ridiculous that 5,000 businessmen should crane their necks to look at a big-busted girl. "I think a nice looking girl with a big bust could stop anybody in the world."

LeMay Going to Vietnam for Inspection

By JULES LOH
Associated Press Writer
EVANSVILLE, Ind. (AP) — Retired Air Force Gen. Curtis E. LeMay is going to Vietnam to take a first hand look at the war for presidential candidate George C. Wallace, The Associated Press has learned.

Tentative plans call for Wallace's running mate to make a four-day trip to Vietnam about Oct. 15, reporting back in time for an Oct. 20 nationwide television address by the former Alabama governor.

Sources close to Wallace said he planned to announce the trip at a speech today at Vandenberg County Courthouse here.

Aides said LeMay, campaigning in Florida, would have no comment. The U.S. embassy in Saigon said it was unaware of any plans for a LeMay visit.

The trip by LeMay, former Air Force chief of staff and head of the Strategic Air Command, recalls the trip to Korea by former President Dwight D. Eisenhower in 1952.

The difference is, however, that Eisenhower, a five-star general who led allied forces to victory in Europe in World War II, pledged to go if elected and then made the trip before taking office.

Wallace has pledged to end the Vietnam war with conventional weapons if the Paris peace talks fail and LeMay has said he agrees.

LeMay, who will be accompanied by three Alabama aides of Wallace, has been a hardliner on Vietnam all along.

When he was picked a week ago to take second place on the Wallace ticket, he revived the dormant issue of nuclear weapons by saying "there are many occasions when it would be most efficient to use them."

He added at the time that he didn't think it was necessary to use them in Vietnam.

In an AP interview just before leaving for his Florida campaign swing, LeMay said no situation exists in Vietnam or any place else now where nuclear weapons would be appropriate. But he added that "there is some place where you're going to use nuclear weapons. Where it is I don't know."

In the same interview he asked what he thought the risks of a full blown military effort in Vietnam.

He answered:

"I think there's a risk. There's a risk in everything. We live in a risky world... There is some risk to living. Presumably we looked at the risks when we went in there. So there is some risk—that Red China might come in, maybe the Russians even might come in. Well, we'd just take a look at it. How much risk is there? China? They've got plenty of problems of their own over there right now. They haven't got any weapons capabilities to do us any damage anyway, at least not now. Later on maybe yes. But not now they haven't. So unless we put a big army on the mainland so they could get at it, they can't hurt us. I think we're foolish to put a big army there. Every soldier has recommended against that as long as I can remember."

Meanwhile, Wallace unleashed his oratorical vengeance Wednesday on the national polls.

"I have no inside knowledge of what the next national poll is going to show," Wallace said in an interview.

"But if the next one doesn't show me going down, then the following one will, and if that one doesn't then the one after that. You can count on it. I told you in September it was going to happen, and I think it's about to happen now."

Wallace said he is convinced the polls are "owned by the big money interests who want Nixon to win," and that they will try to start a home-stretch bandwagon rolling for the front runner.

As Wallace told a crowd of 4,000-5,000 mostly college students in Albany, N.Y., Wednesday:

"These polling outfits in my judgment, ought to have a good congressional investigation involving them because they're trying to control an election by telling you who's going to win. And they don't know as much about whose going to win as you people assembled out here today."

Earlier, in Scranton, Pa., he told 5,000 at a mid-morning rally in the courthouse square:

"They (the polling organizations) had better remember the Literary Digest. The biggest poll is going to be in November."

According to the Bible, Jubal invented the harp.

If you don't drink milk NOW, you'd better have a new excuse!

People become milk-drinking drop-outs for all kinds of reasons. Some are weight-watchers. Some are complexion-casualties. And some older swingers think milk is just for kids.

And then, Borden's designed — The Milk for Adults. It begins as whole, fresh milk. We take out most of the fat. We add whole milk solids for extra protein and calcium. And then put in Vitamin D.

It tastes like whole milk, so good it's put milk-drinking back in again. Now, there's no excuse for not drinking milk.

AN ARTIST'S EYE sees beauty everywhere, even in the mud flats of San Francisco Bay, where the mud is sometimes five feet deep. Photographer John Arms, adept at recording textures, made these pictures along the bay's northern shore. In some places the ooze is granular like packed, wet sand; in others, it is sun-dried and cracked like broken crockery. Often, tin cans and old tires litter the area but these, too, can take on an aura of beauty.

Maharaja Chicken Is a Festive Main Dish

By GAYNOR MADDOX
NEA Food Editor

Maharaja chicken breast is an elegant change for Sunday or company dinner. It has the scent of India. The chicken breasts are coated with a curry-flavored corn meal mixture and then fried until golden and very tender.

Curry powder, as you know, is a blend of many spices. It is available in all stores. But in India it is usually made from freshly ground spices in proportion to the needs of the special dish it is to be used for.

For your festive dinner, start with chilled pineapple juice and sesame crackers. With the chicken, serve fluffy rice with chopped cashew nuts. Buttered spinach makes a perfect vegetable, and for salad, serve sliced tomatoes and cucumbers on lettuce. Dessert might be tiny, creamy

1 cup enriched corn meal
¾ cup sifted all-purpose flour
1½ teaspoons salt
1¼ teaspoons curry powder

1 teaspoon paprika
2 eggs
3 tablespoons milk
6 chicken breasts, split in half lengthwise

Sift together corn meal, flour, salt, curry powder and paprika into medium-sized bowl. Combine eggs and milk in small bowl. Dip chicken pieces into egg mixture, then roll in corn meal mixture. Pan-fry, covered, in hot vegetable oil 15 to 20 minutes on each side or until chicken is tender. (If using electric fry pan, set at 350 degrees.) Drain on absorbent paper. Six servings.

went over and auditioned. She got the part. Gordon helped her get it. He is something of an artist, too, and he made her up to look like the girl in Carson McCullers' book. He had her put her hair in a pigtail and he stuck something behind her ears so they would protrude.

She also put on a thick southern accent. All those Saturdays at the Princess Theater had taught her that actresses don't talk with an accent, so she trained herself out of most of it.

The speech patterns she adopted for the tryout were so thick that the producer and director felt she had too much. They arranged for her to work with a speech coach in New York to lose some. She was so afraid of jeopardizing the job that she didn't tell them the accent was a put on.

Instead, she went to the speech coach every day, and every day came back with a little less accent.

She loved every minute of the filming. It was a dream come true, and she made the most of it. Now she is waiting anxiously for another good role to come along.

"I'm very ambitious," she says. "I'm Mount Vesuvius—with a cork in my head. I'm ready to burst. But I'm not so anxious that I'll take the first opportunity that comes along."

"I'm going to wait for a golden part to come along before I take it. If not golden, at least silver."

She and Gordon live in Los Angeles now. His career is moving along, too, slower than hers but still moving. He'd probably settle for brass.

Sondra's Talent Un-Locks Hollywood's Golden Gates

Sondra Locke
Waiting for a golden part.

By DICK KLEINER
NEA Hollywood Correspondent

HOLLYWOOD — (NEA) — Once upon a time, there were two little children in Shelbyville, Tenn. Every Saturday, when the other children were out playing or going to football games, this little boy and little girl would go to the Princess Theater and watch the movie and make believe they were stars.

It was a harmless fantasy. And nothing might have come of it except one day a fairy godmother came to Shelbyville, waved her magic contract and made the little girl a star.

Her name is Sondra Locke. The little boy's name is Gordon Anderson. He's an actor, too, although so far not a star. But Sondra and Gordon are now married and they fully expect to live happily ever after. Sondra is 21, and her work in "The Heart Is a Lonely Hunter" has been universally acclaimed. She is pretty and talented and very much in love. She has golden hair and big blue eyes and she knows how to act.

She and Gordon grew up together, from the time they were about 11. The other kids in Shelbyville considered them rather peculiar. All they seemed to care about were the movies.

"We saw every movie," Sondra says, "and we read everything we could find about movies. Not just about the stars, but about the technical side of movie-making, too. None of the other children would go to the theater with us, because we were always talking about the technical things—looking for process shots and so on." Sondra wanted to be an actress, but from the vantage point of Shelbyville it seemed like a remote ambition.

"I thought it was a ridiculous—no, not ridiculous—an impossible ambition," she says.

She and Gordon did what acting they could. In high school, they played the leads in the school play, "The Innocents." Sondra went to Nashville and worked for a television station there, but the job was more in production than in the acting end of things.

She was there when the fairy godmother made her appearance. Her real name was Marion Dougherty, and she was conducting a national talent hunt—"an honest one," Sondra says—for a young girl to play in "The Heart Is a Lonely Hunter." Sondra read about it in the newspapers and South's jump to four hearts announced a minimum opening bid with very good trumps. In other words, it said, "Partner, my hand calls for play in hearts. If you have enough high cards to go along with my good trumps, we have a slam; otherwise we belong in game only."

North might have simply jumped to the heart slam but North decided to make some effort to get to seven. Hence his bids of four and five no-trump. South had told his story and settled for the small slam.

South looked over dummy carefully and counted his winners. There were just 11 of them. He could get a 12th easily by taking the double finesse in clubs or he could get the 12th by setting up dummy's fifth spade. The odds that West would hold at least one of the club honors were 3 to 1 in South's favor; the odds that spades would divide 4-3 only about 8-to-5, so that if only one play could be used, it was up to South to try the club finesse.

On the other hand there was a way for South to try both plays. He started by winning the diamond in dummy. Then he entered his hand with the queen of trumps. Next came a spade to the ace and the ruff of a spade. Back to dummy with the king of trumps and the ruff of another low spade.

When both opponents followed to that spade lead, South drew the last trump and showed his hand, conceding a club.

It was just as well that he gave himself that extra chance. The spades did break but both club honors were wrong.

Intellectuals on Trial in Moscow

MOSCOW (AP) — About 40 supporters of the accused maintained a vigil in the rain outside the courthouse today as the trial of five Soviet intellectuals entered its second day.

The five defendants, including Pavel Litvinov, grandson of a former Soviet foreign minister, are accused of organizing an illegal demonstration on Red Square Aug. 25 protesting the invasion of Czechoslovakia.

One of the accused, Mrs. Larisa Daniel, said on the stand Wednesday that she felt it was necessary to express her opposition to the invasion. She said she did not feel she had broken any laws.

Mrs. Daniel's husband is serving a term in a labor camp for writings that authorities considered anti-Soviet.

No Debates, Sources Close to Nixon Say

By WALTER R. MEARS Associated Press Writer
MOLINE, Ill. (AP) — There aren't going to be any presidential campaign debates this year involving Richard M. Nixon, Republican sources made clear today.

Aides to the GOP presidential nominee said Nixon is not going to relax his opposition to any confrontation including third-party candidate George C. Wallace. Nor, they said, will Nixon agree to any arrangement raising the prospect that Wallace might win separate but equal television treatment.

They acknowledge that these Nixon reservations eliminate any prospect that the Republican nominee will meet Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey, his Democratic rival, in debate before the election on Nov. 5.

The Nixon camp insists that there must be assurances Wallace would have no claim of free television time as a result of any Nixon-Humphrey debate.

The Nixon rationale: It would not be in the public interest to provide Wallace with an avenue to more national attention than his third-party campaign now commands.

"Our position remains firmly the same on the debates," said Ron Ziegler, Nixon's travel and campaign spokesman.

The Republican nominee said nothing after the House, stalled by GOP parliamentary tactics, passed in a 27-hour session a bill to facilitate televised meetings of Nixon, Humphrey and Wallace.

The Senate has passed a measure suspending equal time requirements, which could otherwise bring demands upon the networks from minor presidential candidates. The Senate left up to the broadcasters to invite whom they want.

But as the Nixon camp sees it, even the Senate version of the legislation could open the way for Wallace to obtain a national television forum.

Ziegler said Nixon was in no way involved in the GOP delay-

NATO Chiefs of Defense in Secret Talks

BONN, Germany (AP) — Defense chiefs of seven NATO countries began secret two-day

ing tactics. The Republicans who did the stalling said they were trying to use the debate bill to force action on congressional reorganization and election reform measures.

But Democrats charged the Republicans were trying to instigate Nixon from campaign debate.

Robert Ellsworth, Nixon's political director, countered with a charge that Humphrey lobbied for legislation to "give him and George Wallace a million dollars worth of free TV time."

Ellsworth accused the Democrats of trying to enhance Wallace's standing in hopes of denying Nixon an Electoral College majority. If there is no majority, the House would choose the next president with each state casting one vote.

Sliced Thin by The Editor
Alex. H. Washburn
Communism?
Or Just Plain
Lawlessness?

American public opinion confronted by violence in the streets not only here but around the world debates a judgment: Is the violence triggered by Communist infiltrators or is it merely plain-vanilla lawlessness?

The United States has had major outbreaks on the streets of her major cities and on the campuses of the University of California and Columbia University, and this tide of violence has run throughout the civilized world. Can it be traced to a Communist plot to overthrow all Western governments, or is it merely a warning that domestic discipline and local law enforcement have been overlooked in the easy and thoughtless way of life all countries have fallen into because of inflation?

On the international scene the theory of Communist aggression may well be valid, but when applied to internal affairs such as street and campus riots it is pure rot.

The latest outbreak supports my judgment — the revolt among students at Mexico's National University and fighting in the streets of Mexico City just as she prepares to welcome visitors to the Olympic Games.

The Communist infiltration theory won't hold water in the case of Mexico — a country already ruled by a revolutionary clique and still strongly inclined to socialist practice. Cuba may be attempting to stir up trouble, but there's not much point in suspecting a really major Communist power such as Russia of interfering with a government that has been consistently friendly to the socialist cause.

The same solid doubt could have been expressed about the student rioting which rocked France somewhat earlier. This was before Russia's invasion of Czechoslovakia, at a time when France was openly siding with the Soviet against the West. Talk of Red infiltration in France didn't make much sense — and in the case of Mexico makes no sense at all.

What's becoming increasingly obvious to critical observers is that the people of all civilized nations — particularly Americans — are falling into the lazy-Joe habit of blaming outsiders for trouble strictly of our own making.

The obvious fault in the United States is that while we have wallowed in inflation and grown purse-proud and indolent we have neglected to reinforce our police and all the bulwarks of law and order.

You can equate it in terms of money — money that is spent freely for private and public indulgence but money that is denied when it comes to increasing the manpower and pay of the nation's police.

That's the truth as I see it — not some mumbo-jumbo rumble out of the Halloween pumpkin called "Communism."

LBJ Delays Replacement for Fortas

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson said today he will not now present another nomination in place of that of Justice Abe Fortas, for chief justice.

Johnson said he might do so in ordinary times.

But, he added, "These are not ordinary times. We are threatened by emotionalism, partisanship, and prejudice that compel us to use great care if we are to avoid injury to our constitutional system."

Chief Justice Earl Warren, who asked to retire, has indicated his willingness to continue on the bench at Johnson's pleasure.

Johnson said: "Under the circumstances, the foundations of government would be better served by the present chief justice remaining until emotionalism subsides, reason and fairness prevail."

Johnson issued a statement from the White House in which he said he deeply regretted that a Senate filibuster prevented a vote on the nomination of Justice Fortas to succeed Warren.

He said he was confident both Fortas and Homer Thornberry, whom he nominated to be a justice succeeding Fortas, would have been confirmed had their cases come to a vote.

Green Light for Friday's Apollo Shot

By HOWARD BENEDICT
AP Aerospace Writer
CAPE KENNEDY, Fla. (AP) — With green lights flashing for all aspects of the flight, the final countdown begins today for Friday's scheduled launching of the three Apollo 7 astronauts on an 11-day space journey.

The 300-man launch crew planned to start the critical final hours of the count by feeding electrical power to the 224-foot-tall Saturn 1B rocket.

As the launch team prepared the rocket and the Apollo 7 spaceship, Navy Capt. Walter M. Schirra Jr., Air Force Maj. Donn F. Elsie and civilian astronaut Walter Cunningham expected to relax after a morning meeting in their quarters with key projects officials.

The space trio is to ride the pulsating power of the Saturn 1B into orbit at 11 a.m. Friday on a critical mission that could put the United States back on course toward its goal of a manned lunar landing next year.

If Apollo 7 demonstrates that the spaceship can function long enough for a half-million-mile round trip to the moon, the Apollo 8 crew may attempt to orbit the moon in December. The 363-foot-tall Saturn 5 rocket for that mission rolled to its launch pad Wednesday for about 40 days of prelaunch checks. The Apollo 8 commander will be Air Force Col. Frank Borman.

Schirra, Cunningham and Elsie practiced Wednesday in a spacecraft simulator. Schirra sneaked away for an afternoon of dove hunting with friends, while Elsie and Cunningham rested in their quarters, reportedly reviewing the flight plan and keeping track of the World Series game on television.

Cunningham visited Wednesday night with his wife, Lo Ella, and two children, who flew here from their home in Houston, Tex., to watch the launching. The wives of the other two crewmen plan to view the blast-off on television at their Houston homes.

Plan to Freeze Out Wallace If Election Goes to House Is Dead Equal Time Bill Has Very Little Chance

By PEGGY SIMPSON

WASHINGTON (AP) — A plan to freeze out George C. Wallace if the presidential election goes to the House of Representatives is dead, one of its prime backers says.

Rep. Morris K. Udall, D-Ariz., says top advisors to Hubert H. Humphrey and Richard M. Nixon shied away from seeking pledges by House candidates to support the presidential candidate with the highest popular vote, no matter what party.

"The big Nixon lead in the polls makes this sort of academic now anyway," Udall said in an interview. He and then-Rep. Charles Goodell, R-N.Y., proposed the pledge plan two months ago.

The timing coincided with the emergence of Wallace's third party movement as a major force which might prevent any candidate from getting the required majority of Electoral College votes.

In such a situation the House chooses the president with each state delegation casting one vote. There are no guidelines as to how House members should

Hope Man Is Held on Rape Attempt Charge

TEXARKANA — A 26-year old Hope, Ark., man has been charged with assault with intent to rape after he was arrested immediately following an assault attempt early Thursday morning at a washateria on Texas Boulevard.

Captain Richard Myers of the criminal division identified the man as James Gary Brashear. A bond was set at $10,000 and he was being held in the city jail in lieu of the bond.

Capt. Myers said a woman was alone in the Coin-O-Mat Washateria, 3307 Texas Boulevard, at 12:45 a.m. Thursday when she saw a man wearing a stocking mask and gloves crawling along the floor. The man grabbed her and threatened her with a knife he was carrying. "He told her to go with him into the back room,"

The woman told police she thought the man was her brother, who she was expecting to pick her up, and attempted to joke with him. She pulled the mask from the man's head and he ran out of the building.

Officers in a patrol car were passing the washateria at the time and saw the man run from the building. Patrolman Buck Wilson and Deputy Sheriff Gary Collins took the man into custody. Officers said that gloves and a knife were found on the ground and Brashear's car was found parked nearby.

The taxpayer feels he is the forgotten man of our times, but at least there's one guy who never forgets him. Unfortunately, he's the tax collector.

Autumn has its blessings to the palate as well as to the eye. At last we can put away the portable outdoor charcoal grill, come indoors and find out again what real food tastes like.

American War Deaths Drop to 190

SAIGON (AP) — U.S. combat deaths in the Vietnam war dropped last week to their lowest total since the week of Aug. 7 while those of South Vietnamese forces went up, weekly reports showed today.

It was the 11th consecutive week that deaths among government forces have exceeded those of American military personnel. Some American officials have said this demonstrates increased combat activity on the part of the South Vietnamese forces.

The U.S. Command said 190 Americans were killed in action last week and 1,326 were wounded compared with 247 killed and 1,779 wounded a week earlier. Of the wounded, 793 did not require hospitalization, the summary said.

The toll raised to 28,648 the number of Americans killed in action in Vietnam since Jan. 1, 1961 and the number of wounded in that period to 179,561. Another 1,214 are listed as missing, captured or interned.

South Vietnamese government casualties last week were listed at 322 men killed, 1,065 wounded and 25 missing or captured. A week earlier these totals had been 316 killed, 1,230 wounded and 32 missing or captured.

The U.S. Command summary said 1,654 enemy were killed last week by allied forces, a sharp drop from the 3,398 reported killed in the previous week. The summary said this raised to 404,988 the number of enemy killed since Jan. 1, 1961.

American headquarters also reported the number of U.S. military personnel in South Vietnam at the end of last week at 540,500. This was 2,000 more than reported a week earlier. The increase was attributed mainly to administrative changes.

Faubus Says Crank Seems to Be Gaining

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Former Gov. Orval E. Faubus said Wednesday that the campaign forces of Gov. Winthrop Rockefeller were working "quite well" but that Marion H. Crank, the Democratic gubernatorial nominee, had "a little bit of an edge" in the campaign.

Faubus said Rockefeller's forces were better organized than they were in 1964 when Faubus defeated Rockefeller.

"On the other hand, he has been in office and has made a record," Faubus said. "As I see it, he's made some mistakes that can be pointed out, which couldn't be done when I was running against him."

Faubus, who campaigned in the Carolinas for George C. Wallace, the third-party presidential candidate, said he had found that local Republican and Democratic candidates were courting the Wallace vote in both states and in Kansas, Tennessee and Missouri.

The former governor said he had declined offers to speak at fund-raising functions for Wallace, but has two or three speaking engagements in Arkansas on Wallace's behalf.

Some See a Possible Breakthrough in the Deadlocked Peace Talks

By ARTHUR L. GAYSHON

PARIS (AP) — Some U.S. officials say privately an early breakthrough toward a Vietnam peace still is possible despite the deadlocked talks here on ending the war.

Their optimism has them to the point of discussing the idea of a package deal in which conflicting American and North Vietnamese terms for a bomb halt would be reconciled.

Arguments advanced by informants who say a breakthrough still is on the cards emerged after the 25th session of the conference Wednesday.

Taken together these arguments suggest the North Vietnamese, for the first time, are revealing a readiness to yield some ground.

The first argument:

— Hanoi regards with some dismay the prospect of Richard M. Nixon being elected President Nov. 5. This, according to sources, appears to be the only conclusion to be drawn from North Vietnamese Ambassador Xuan Thuy's statement that

Progress in Pueblo Talks Reported

SEOUL, Korea (AP) — U.S. and North Korean negotiators met at Panmunjom today for the second straight day and a substantial breakthrough was in the making on the release of the crew of the USS Pueblo, intelligence sources said.

U.S. officials refused to comment on the report. The sources declined to elaborate on what they meant as a breakthrough.

At the same time, the South Korean newspaper Kyunghyang Shinmun quoted in a column sources as saying the 82 Pueblo crewmen, held in North Korea since the ship's capture Jan. 23, may be released shortly.

The paper added that the Panmunjom meeting was attended for the first time by Lennart Fimmark, a Swede who is a member of the Neutral Nations Supervisory Commission of the Korean armistice.

The private talk Wednesday was the 23rd at Panmunjom on the Pueblo.

The last confirmed private talk was held Sept. 30. Kyunghyang also said Maj. Gen. Gilbert Woodward, U.S. representative at the private talks, personally has toured a U.S. military hospital near Seoul and the Osan U.S. air base to inspect preparations for receiving the Pueblo crew.

Enemy Bases Blasted by Big Bombers

By GEORGE ESPER
Associated Press Writer

SAIGON (AP) — U.S. Air Force B52 bombers blasted enemy base camps threatening Saigon with heavy raids Wednesday and today, boosting to more than 700 the number of missions flown in the past four months in defense of the capital.

The B52 campaign to blunt an enemy attack on Saigon has become one of the biggest and costliest of the war—perhaps costing $250 million since June 1.

The eight-jet Stratofortresses have dropped more than 125,000 tons of explosives in 705 missions against base camps, infiltration corridors and other targets in the outlying provinces of Saigon. Each mission averages about six bombers each carrying 30 tons of bombs at an average cost of $2,000 a ton.

In the latest strikes, the B52s mounted seven missions against enemy troop concentrations, long-time base camps, bunker complexes and infiltration routes along the approaches northwest and northeast of Saigon.

The closest raids to Saigon were 24 to 31 miles northwest of the capital.

In other developments, the U.S. Command announced another movement of American troops in a three-way shuffle to realign units with their own parent divisions. The movement involves three brigades of about 5,000 men each.

The latest shift sent the 3rd Brigade of the 101st Airborne Division from the outer ring of defense northwest of Saigon to the Hue area far to the north to join the division's two other brigades.

Earlier, it had been disclosed that the 3rd Brigade of the 82nd Airborne Division had been moved from the Hue area to the capital military district to protect Saigon's western flank against enemy attack. This brigade replaced a brigade of the 25th Infantry Division which in turn took up the positions left vacant by the 101st Airborne's brigade northwest of Saigon.

Elsewhere, South Vietnamese infantrymen killed 44 enemy troops late Wednesday in heavy fighting in the Mekong Delta 54 miles southwest of Saigon. U.S. Army helicopter gunships supporting the South Vietnamese accidentally fired into the allied troops, killing four and wounding six.

U.S. headquarters also reported that American Marines killed 54 enemy troops in fighting Tuesday and Wednesday around the Thung Duc Special Forces camp, 30 miles southwest of Da Nang. Marine casualties were put at one dead and 13 wounded.
